HARAOTI AND TONK, DEOLI.

Dated Shahpura, the 30th November 1906.

SIR,

In continuation of my letter No. 366 of the 22nd instant, I have the honour to submit herewith the Annual Administration Report of the Chiefship for the period from 1st April 1905 to 31st October 1906.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

NATHU MAL,
EXTRA ASSISTANT COMMISSIONER,
Kamdar, Shahpura.

Yearly Administration Report, Shahpura Chiefship, 1905-1906.

CHAPTER I.

GENERAL AND POLITICAL.

The Chiefship consists of two Parganahs, viz., the Phulia and the Kachola.

The former is held under the British Government, and the latter under the Udaipur Durbar.

Details hereof are as follows :—

NAME OF PARGANAH.	Area in square miles.	Population per 1901 census.	Tribute payable.
Phulia	405	42,676	10,000 British currency.
Kachola	300 approximately.	12,515	3,000 Chitouri.

The general gross revenue (based on an average of the past 5 years) comes to Rs. 2,50,000 Chitouri, equal to Rs. 2,00,000 British currency calculated on an average rate of exchange of Rs. 125 Chitouri to Rs. 100 British.

The ruling Chief, Raja Dhiraj Sir Nahar Singh, K.C.I.E., was born in January 1854 A.D., and is a Sisodhia Rajput. He is married to the sister of the ruling Chief of Chota Udaipur (Rewakantha Agency, Gujerat), a Chauhan Rajput.

He has two sons, by name Kunwar Umaid Singh (the heir-apparent), and Kunwar Sirdar Singh; and a grandson named Satrunjoy by his second son.

Owing to the demise of his wife in July 1904, Kunwar Sirdar Singh was married a second time to the cousin of the ruling Chief of Chota Udaipur on the 20th November 1905.

A partial tour in both the Parganahs was made by Raja Dhiraj during the months of May and August 1905. Phulia and Sangaria tahsils of the Phulia Parganah and Kachola and Ulela Tahsils of the Kachola Parganah were inspected, and much important work disposed of. Remissions of Land Revenue arrears amounting to Rs. 51,368-8.9 were allowed.

Owing to his keen interest in the Irrigation projects he went frequently to Bhimpura and Dhikola, where tank work was in progress. In the first week of September 1905, Captain A. B. Drummond, the Political Agent in Haraoti and Tonk, paid the Chiefship a visit in connection with the preliminary Famine Relief measures. He inspected the works at Dhikola and Bhimpura, and was pleased to declare the latter Project open for the relief of the distressed people as a test relief work by turning the first sod himself upon the site.

Later on in the month of December 1905, the Hon'ble Mr. E. G. Colvin, the A. G.-G. in Rajputana, accompanied by his First Assistant Mr. C. C. Watson; Mr. F. St. G. Manners-Smith, Secretary in the P.W.D.; Major L. Impey, the Famine Commissioner; and Major R. B. Berkeley, the Political Agent, Haraoti and Tonk, visited the Chiefship. The visit, though a private one, was in connection with the Famine works opened by the Chiefship. The works at Dhikola and Bhimpura were both inspected, and after very careful consideration the Raja Dhiraj was advised to close the former work and to concentrate all the available labour upon the latter, as it was the more paying and the more important of the two. This will be dealt with fully under the Famine heading.

Thrice during the year Capt. C. M. Goodbody, I.M.S., Agency Surgeon, Haracti and Tonk, visited the Chiefship. Besides inspecting the ordinary Hospital work he inspected the relief works and advised both the Famine Officer and the Officer-in-charge of the work about the Sanitary measures to be adopted and the location of different labour camps.

On 23rd January 1906, Col. H. N. V. Harrington, the Administrative Medical Officer for Rajputana, visited the Chiefship, particulars whereof will be found in Chapters III and VI.

H. H. the Maharaja of Kishangarh, accompanied by his tutor Mr. H. Wilkinson, and the Diwan Rai Bahadur Syam Sunder Lal, C.I.E., visited the Chiefship on the 29th January 1906. Though the visit was a private one yet the honour of the usual salute and Peshwai was accorded to him. His Highness, in company with the said officials, was pleased to inspect the Law Courts and the Administrative Departments of the Chiefship and was much interested.

After a stay of two days, which time was occupied in pig-sticking, he left for Kishangarh under the usual salute of 15 guns.

In the third week of April 1906, Major A. F. Pinhey, the Political Agent in Mewar, in company with Capt. Fisher, I.M.S., the Agency Surgeon, and Mr. Wakefield, the Famine Officer in Mewar, while touring in the adjoining Mewar territory in connection with Famine Relief Works, camped here for three days. Being interested in the Bhimpura Protective Reservoir they inspected the same with much interest.

About the end of April 1906, Major R. B. Berkeley, the Political Agent, paid the Chiefship a visit in connection with the various administrative works of the Chiefship, and more especially with the Court of Wards work as the encumbered state of the various wards was being investigated.

The health of the members of the Raj Family continued generally good throughout the period under report, with the exception of Kunwar Umaid Singh, who had a bad attack of sciatica. For its proper treatment he had twice to go to Indore and Calcutta, to Major Roberts and Col. Lukis respectively. He has, however, benefitted a great deal by treatment, and is much better now. Kunwar Sirdar Singh joined Mr. R. C. Brown, Collector at Godhra, on 12th October 1906, and Kunwar Umaid Singh continues to carry on the duties of a Collector in the Chiefship.

CHAPTER II.

The system of Land Revenue in vogue, which is based upon the old system of Lātā, Bāntā and Kuntā, and a partial cash assessment continues the same. If judged by its results it cannot be denied that the system is highly disadvantageous and old fashioned. The Rayats are averse to forsaking the ways of their forefathers, and the introduction of a settlement system which obtains in British India is at present difficult. As soon as the Raja Dhiraj has completed the Protective Irrigation Projects and funds become available it is hoped that an advanced system of land revenue assessment will be introduced. The question of placing the land tenure on a sound footing is also under consideration, as at present the Rayats do not enjoy proprietary rights, and are ever liable to ejectment from their cherished possessions on a slight increase of rates being offered. As soon as a definite decision is arrived at, a Settlement will be begun and completed in the course of a few years.

Besides being simple and easily workable a Settlement will provide complete control over the revenue collection accounts. In the meantime information to increase the Raja Dhiraj's knowledge of the aforesaid systems is being collected.

The Rayats seem to have no complaints under the prevailing system, and they pay off the assessments easily and readily. On the contrary they appear to be pleased with it, more especially in good years when crops flourish. The area of land ploughed during the year 1905, was 13,922 acres equal to 22,274 bighas. The shortness of area as compared with that of the previous year was due to the failure of the monsoon in 1905. The very heavy rain of July 1906, however, helped a great deal to reclaim lands fallen out of cultivation and, to make good to a certain extent the loss occasioned through the scanty rainfall of 1905.

The boundary dispute between Alamoo in Kishangarh and Ratanpura in the chiefship referred to in last year's report is still pending. Owing to famine both at Kishangarh and in Shahpura negotiations for the mutual settlement of the case had to be given up for a time. They have been resumed this year, and there is every hope that the case will soon be settled. During the period under report three new boundary disputes occurred, viz., between Kalingari and Khera Barhet, between Rani Khera and Kanechan and between Santokhpura and Dhanop. The first one was decided in favour of Khera Barhet while the other two are pending. The Jagirdars of Ranikhera and Santokhpura, who are one of the parties in the pending cases, are very dilatory, and it is through their negligence and carelessness that the disputes have not as yet been settled. As the Political Agent has ordered that an official of the chiefship shall settle the Ranikhera and Kanechan dispute, M. Kali Charan, the Magistrate, has been deputed to proceed to the spot and inform the Jagirdar beforehand.

No Taqavi advance was made during the year.

There was a great difference between the demand and actual receipts during the year. The difference between the two was so great that where an outturn of 12 annas in a rupee was expected, only  $6\frac{1}{2}$  annas were collected. The cause of all this was the complete failure of the monsoon in 1905. Only 6·45 inches of rain fell out of an average of 24 inches, and this was not sufficient for agricultural requirements. Tanks did not fill, and from the beginning water stood low in wells. A very small percentage of arable land was cultivated, and that, too, was only close to wells. During the rainy season of 1906 the rainfall was more than was hoped for, but as its effects will rather ensure better results towards the crops from 1st November 1906 to 31st October 1907, which will be noticed in the next year's report, particulars thereof are being left out from the present one.

It will suffice here to say that every hope of a good yielding year is entertained. It is largely due to the fact that the early September rains were good this year that the country has been spared a repetition of the scarcity of the past season. Although the total rainfall in the month of July was more than sufficient, it was not equally distributed, and a heavy fall of 14 inches within some 48 hours did some damage. Many embankments of tanks were breached, and there was some damage to property. However the present Kharif crop is good and prospects for the next Rabi crop are also good. A feature of special interest to a naturalist was the death of animals in the Jungle. Deer, hares and sheep suffered a great deal and also many birds, and hundreds of black buck were found dead in the jungle after the heavy rains.

Remissions of Revenue arrears amounting to Rs. 51,368-8-9 were allowed during the year, while in a general Durbar the Raja Dhiraj was pleased to suspend all the outstanding revenue of the current year till the harvesting of the Kharif crop. A similar concession was extended to those Jagirdars who satisfied the Mahakma Khas that they could not pay their tribute. The concession applied to both the Parganahs, and interest upon such suspended balances was remitted.

No land was alienated during the year.

COURT OF WARDS.

M. Behari Lal presided over the Department from 1st April 1905 to the 1st October 1906. The period of six months for which his services were originally borrowed having expired on the 6th April 1905, two extensions each of six months' duration were asked for. During the last months of his deputation he was busy in settling the accounts of Raj claims against the Wards' Jagirdars. This he had every hope of finishing before the 6th April 1906, if the accounts had been forthcoming in a regular and systematic manner, and if the Jagirdars concerned had responded to him promptly. However, when it became apparent that the work could not be completed in the allotted time, the Political Agent asked the Local Government to extend the period of M. Behari Lal's deputation to 30th September 1906. This was sanctioned, and it may be mentioned that having completed his work as directed by the Political Agent, M. Behari Lal reverted to his substantive appointment in the Ajmer District, on the 1st October 1906. The final report made by the late Manager of the Court of Wards has not yet been approved by the Local Government. As soon as orders are received they will be acted upon.

In order that the efficiency of the Department may not suffer, and that the encumbered Wards' Jagirdars may not resume their habits of prodigality, it has been settled to keep a whole-time manager under the close supervision of the Kaimdar.

Out of 17 estates that were originally placed under management 14 remain. The estates of both the pounderiks, Surya Dattji and Chattra Dattji, were released as neither of them had either Dami or Raj debt to pay.

The estate of Hanotia, which was under management, was confiscated owing to the misdemeanor and wilful transgressions and contempt of the Raj authority by the Jagirdar and his son. He has, however, been given a monthly allowance of Rs. 30 Chitouri for his maintenance and brought to Shahpura.

On the 22nd February 1906, Thakur Bahadur Singh of Choti Kanechan breathed his last at his father-in-law's house in the village of Parsoli, Jaipur State. His was a Ward estate. Being without a lineal descendant, he was succeeded by his younger brother, Amar Singh, aged 20 years.

The Jagirdar of Sankhlia died on Pous vid 6 Sambat 1962, corresponding with 12th January 1906, at village called Sodawas in Marwar. As usual the village was resumed, but when his son presented himself before the Raja Dhiraj and got the necessary ceremonials of matmi, &c., performed, he was given back the village. He is a boy of 12 years and is receiving education in Jaswant College, Jodhpur.

To give a better education than is possible at Shahpura to the minor Jagirdars of Thanal and Bishnia, it has been arranged to send them both to the Mayo College at Ajmer.

Education, the pioneer of all advancement, stands at its lowest ebb with these Jagirdars, and it is only through its agency that hopes of the amelioration of their condition can be entertained. The condition of the Jagirdars is generally pitiable, and steps will be taken to improve it, to which special attention is being paid.

CHAPTER III.

PROTECTION.

Legislation.—The laws shown in Appendix II are in force in the chiefship, and no new law was introduced during the year. Although the Transfer of Property and the Contract acts are not current yet their spirit is followed by the Courts.

Military Force.—There is no regular Military Force in the chiefship, but the number of Armed Police is shown under the headings Cavalry and Infantry. The Jagirdars' quotas under the feudal system number 102 horsemen, 1 camel sowar and 4 footmen. The Armed Police, and the Jagirdars with their quotas carry out Military work when necessary, and no other Military Force is maintained in the chiefship. The Armed Police carry lances and muzzle-loading guns, while the sowars of the Jagirdars generally carry swords. The work of the cavalry consists of patrol duty as well as that of escorting the Raja Dhiraj. The Infantry is mainly employed on guard duty at the palace and the Jail, and both are on ceremonial occasions used as a guard of honour. They are classed as irregulars.

The total Army charges, including Police, amount to Rs. 16,957-1-3 Chitouri.

Police.—The sanctioned strength of the force according to the Police Manual is 400 units, including irregular cavalry and infantry as shown above. Its strength stands as follows :—

Constables of general Police	...	...	...	...	...	107
Chowkidars	...	...	...	...	...	130
Police Superintendent	...	...	...	...	...	1
Inspector	...	...	...	...	...	1
Sub-Inspectors	...	...	...	...	...	4
Clerks	...	...	...	...	...	4
Miscellaneous	...	...	...	...	...	11
Cavalry	...	...	...	...	...	27
Infantry	...	...	...	...	...	60
				Total	...	345

The constables usually carry swords and small clubs, while the chowkidars are armed with lances. The ratio of the Police force to the area is 1 unit per square mile, while the same ratio to population comes to 1 for every 100 individuals. For the working of the Force see Appendices V, VI and VII.

Village Police.—There is no separate village Police. One hundred and thirty Chowkidars shown under this head are solely employed on village work. Their functions are to maintain order, report crime and assist in the detection of the latter. They are not entrusted with any Revenue work and do not interfere in it.

There are four Thanas in the Chiefship, viz., at Shahphra, Phulia, Dhikola and Sangaria, each in charge of a Sub-Inspector. There are four chowkies under these Thanas. They are situated at Amli, Kanechan, Karamdawas and Bilia.

The health of the Force was good, only three admissions having been made to Hospital. The number of deaths was nil.

The conduct of the Force has been on the whole good, though a few chowkidars were found criminally involved in certain thefts. They were, however, punished, and the Superintendent of Police was ordered to eliminate from the Force bad characters who may have entered it.

Four sepoys of the Armed Police were punished after trial for an offence under section 507 I. P. C., one Sub-Inspector was dismissed for abuse of power, while 20 constables were punished departmentally. Rewards to the value of Rs. 100 were granted for good service.

The total number of cognizable offences during the period under report was 432, of which 255 were admitted. The number of cases investigated was 432, of which 255 were sent for trial. Out of these 128 were prosecuted to conviction and 39 remained under trial, while 88 were discharged or acquitted. The number of persons arrested was 313, of whom 128 were convicted. The percentage of convictions was 37·6, while that of convicted to accused persons sent up for trial was 50·2.

The value of stolen property was Rs. 10,428-9-3, and of recovered property Rs. 2,701-3-9.

No ~~murder or~~ dacoity case occurred during the year. The occurrence of big thefts in a walled town with gates like Shahpura and one close to a Police Post is discreditable.

One case of poisoning was reported and the accused arrested. The person poisoned was a village woman. When her excreta, along with pieces of liver, kidney, stomach and intestines were sent for chemical examination to the Government Analyst at Agra, arsenic was found in all. The accused one, Gopal Dass Sadhu of Khaqi class, has been sentenced to life imprisonment, which he is to pass in the Shahpura jail instead of the Andamans.

JUDICAL.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE.

In the chiefship the Mahakma Khas is the final Appellate Court. It has two sides, viz., Judicial and Revenue. In both the Raja Dhiraj, assisted by the Kamdar, presides. On the Judicial side Civil and Criminal appeals against the decrees and orders of the subordinate Civil and Criminal Courts are heard.

The Judicial Assistants' Court and the Criminal Court are subordinate to the Mahakma Khas. They were presided over by Hakim Ahmad Hassan and M. Kalicharan respectively.

Twice during the year when Hakim Ahmad Hassan went on leave Baboo Chandra Brahma Sinha, the Private Secretary, officiated for him.

Kanwar Sirdar Singh continued to learn Judicial work by sitting in the Court with the Judicial Assistant, and helping him in the trial of Civil and Criminal cases. He had no actual Civil or Criminal powers, responsibility being vested in the Judicial Assistant. It is satisfactory to note that he has benefitted by his attendance.

The Judicial Assistant hears Criminal cases in which one or both the parties are Jagirdars; likewise Sessions cases are committed to his Court by the Magistrate. In addition he helps the Kamdar in disposing of such Mahakma Khas Judicial cases as are entrusted to him. Such cases are not liable to appeal in the Mahakma Khas.

Appeals against the Sessions and Criminal cases, both of the Judicial Assistant and the Magistrate's Court, are heard in the Mahakma Khas Judicial side.

M. Kalicharan is invested with the powers of a first-class Magistrate, and is empowered to award three years' imprisonment and Rs. 500 fine. He is ex-officio Superintendent of Jail also.

The Tahsildars of Phulia and Sangaria Tahsils and the Umrao of Khamore exercise third-class Magisterial powers. Appeals against their orders are heard by the Magistrate's Court. The Umrao of Khamore is an Honorary Magistrate.

The number of Criminal cases filed during the period under report in the Judicial Assistant's Court was 53, of which 45 were disposed of and 8 cases remained pending.

The number of cases that came before the Magistrate at Shahpura for hearing was 937. Of these 913 were decided, leaving a balance of 24 cases on the 31st October, 1906.

For full workings of these Courts please see Appendix No. VII. The number of offences reported during the past and the present year was 44 and 856 respectively, and the number of persons dealt with and brought to trial in the same two years was 342 and 1,556 respectively. The number of cases disposed of during the year was 1,497, and of those remaining pending at the close of the year was 59.

CIVIL JUSTICE.

There are seven Civil Courts in the Chieftainship :—

1. Mahakma Khas Judicial.
2. Judicial Assistant's Court.
3. Civil Court.
4. Shahpura Tahsil Court.
5. Phulia Tahsil Court.
6. Sangaria Tahsil Court.
7. Honorary Magistrate's Court at Khamore.

Their functions are as follows :—

1. Appellate Court, Final.
2. All Civil Suits exceeding Rs. 3,000.
3. All Civil Suits up to Rs. 3,000.
- 4, 5 and 6. These Courts hear suits not exceeding Rs. 50 in value.
7. This Court can hear cases not exceeding Rs. 300 in value. Appeals lie to the Civil Court, No 3.

No. 2 hears Civil suits by and against Jagirdars. Appeals against decrees and orders passed by Courts No. 2 and 3 are heard and decided by Court No. 1. Court No. 3 hears appeals against the decisions and orders passed by Courts No. 4, 5 and 6.

Civil Court.—During the year Hakim Ibna Hassan, the Civil Judge, resigned his post, and he was succeeded by Lala Sarup Narain, who fills the office creditably.

The number of suits instituted during the year was 729, of which 615 were disposed of: thus 114 remained pending on the 31st October 1906. The average duration of a single suit was  $4\frac{1}{4}$  months. The number of execution decrees filed during the year in the Civil Courts was 802, out of which 679 were disposed of, leaving a balance of 123 pending on the 31st October 1906.

Past Year.				Present Year.
		Rs.	A. P.			Rs.	A. P.
20 Cases of Landed Property	...	2,350	1 9	15 Landed Property	...	5,915	0 0
449 , Money Suits	...	39,647	2 9	529 Money Suits	...	33,122	10 9
479 Total Rs.	...	41,997	4 6	544	Total Rs.	39,037	10 9

The number of appeals was 131, out of which 110 were disposed of, leaving a balance of 21.

The chief feature worthy of note has been the change of Kamdars. Correspondence regarding this had been going on from February 1905. Some three or four candidates were nominated, and at last choice fell on Lala Nathu Mal, who was an Extra Assistant Commissioner in the Jallundhar District, Punjab. Upon his taking over charge he found that a large number of both Revenue and Judicial files were pending. It was an ordinary matter to find many which had been kept pending for over six years with no apparent cause, whilst a few were of a prior date.

For some two months and a-half the Kamdar was busily engaged in disposing of the heavy arrears which had accumulated. Side by side with these the daily routine work was kept up to date. About 188 cases were disposed of, bringing an average of 1·8 cases a day.

By careful supervision of the various subordinate courts and departments, their working has been somewhat accelerated, though to bring them fully up to date will require time. Anyhow the work has been begun, and it will be gradually carried to completion. The procedure observed and the system followed require a complete change, and the matter is under consideration.

EXTRADITION.

There are no Extradition engagements between the Chiefship and the States of Rajputana, nor have any demands for Extradition been made during the year. The only Extradition engagements existing are those with the British Government and the Government of H. H. the Nizam of Hyderabad. Criminal work in the Chiefship would be easier if mutual extradition could be arranged with the Mewar Durbar, whose territory bounds the Chiefship on three sides. It often happens that criminals slip off to this territory and thus escape justice. All this would cease if an Extradition engagement could be concluded. Endeavours for a mutual agreement will be made.

PRISON.

There is only one Jail in the Chiefship. It is located at Shahpura, and has accommodation for 40 prisoners. There is a separate ward for the females. During the year the general health of the prisoners was good, and no death occurred amongst the convicts. M. Kalicharan is ex-officio Superintendent of Jail.

The conduct of the prisoners was satisfactory.

Industries noted below are carried on in the Jail :—

1. Cotton, carpet-weaving.
2. Niwar weaving.
3. Cotton, rope manufacture.

On account of their being carried out on a small scale, they are not productive. The total expenditure of the Jail during the period under report was Rs. 1,504-14. Last year the number of prisoners in the Jail on the 31st March 1905 was 14, while the number of new admissions was 170 up to 31st October 1906. Out of these 168 were released, and the balance on the 31st October was 16. The daily average of the prisoners for the year ending 31st March 1905 and 19 months ending 31st October 1906 comes to .26 and .32 respectively. The average period of trial of accused persons was 37.65 days.

During the year the Officers noted below inspected the institution :—

CAPT. C. M. GOODYEAR, I.M.S., Agency Surgeon—22nd November 1905; 1st August 1906.

COL. H. N. V. HARRINGTON, I.M.S., Chief Medical Officer in Rajputana—25th January 1906.

Both were satisfied with the Jail arrangements.

REGISTRATION.

The Kamdar performs the duties of the Registrar. The Registration Department is not a separate one, but is included in the Mahakma Khas. During the period under report 90 documents were brought forward for registration, out of which 57 documents valued at Rs. 10,954-5-6 were registered, while the registration of 24 documents was refused. Thus on the 31st October 1906 the number of documents remaining unregistered pending enquiry was 9. There being no separate department for the purpose, the fees realised are to be taken as net, vide Appendices XIV and XV.

MUNICIPALITY.

There is no municipality in the Chiefship. The sanitation of Shah-pura town, which was carried out by the P.W.D., is now looked after by the Police Department. Twelve sweepers under a Daroga are employed. To remove filth and rubbish and night soil, conservancy carts are used. In spite of this there remained much room for improvement. Upon inspection it was found that little pools of water, swarming with myriads of malarious mosquito larvæ, were allowed through carelessness to stand here and there. Lartines and urinals were in an offensive condition and were not properly washed and disinfected. Similarly the by-lanes remained neglected, and to see filth at every turn was not unusual. Special attention was given to removing the above defects, and latrines and urinals are now washed and disinfected daily. New night-soil carts were imported; phenyle and carbolic disinfectant powder purchased to wash the latrines and urinals; bhistics were engaged; and in order that they should do good work the pay of the sweepers was raised. As a result Shahpura to-day looks much cleaner than it did before. At present the night soil is allowed to stand in the jungle and dry in the sun. Arrangements are being considered to bury it in earth and turn the same into proper manure. For this extra sweepers have been engaged.

After the completion of the Bhimpura work, when its tramway will be available for use in the Chiefship, it is hoped to utilise the same for sanitation purposes.

For the bad sanitation of the place the management is not wholly to be blamed as the people themselves are slow in realising the benefit of good sanitation. With them dunghills, cesspools close to their dwellings, and badly-ventilated rooms closely packed is an ordinary thing. A single pie spent on cleanliness appears to them a waste of money. However, they are being made to understand the advantages of sanitation, and it is hoped that in time they will be able to appreciate them.

PRODUCTION AND DISTRIBUTION.

The rainfall in the chiefship was distributed as below:—

	INCHES
From 1st April 1905 to 31st March 1906	... 6·45
From 1st April 1906 to 31st October 1906	... 30·65
Total	... 37·10

as compared with 15·48 in the previous year, vide Appendix XVII (A. and B.).

From the very beginning the monsoon (1905-06) was scanty. In no month was the fall sufficient for agricultural purposes. Only in July 1905, 3·36 inches were recorded, but this only proved delusive to the agricultural population. In the false hope of good rain during the succeeding months they tilled their fields, and to a great extent sowed them.

But to their deep sorrow only 1.89 and 1.67 inches of rain fell in August and September 1905 respectively, with long intervals between the showers. The October rainfall, which greatly helps the ripening of the Kharif crops, was nil. So famine conditions, signs of which were apparent by the end of August, became fully established by the end of October.

As the rainfall in 1905 was much less than that of 1899-1900, it was greatly feared that the scarcity would be severer than in that year, but circumstances proved otherwise. Very likely from their experience of 1899-1900 the rayats were prepared to meet the calamity. Moreover, good harvests were being reaped in South-western Rajputana and Malwa, hence with the first signs of famine a large number of persons emigrated with their cattle to more favoured districts.

Anyhow for the relief of rayats, test works upon the projects at Dhikola and Bhimpura were started on the 26th August and the 1st September 1905 respectively : both of these were irrigation works. For relief of the distressed at Shahpura, work upon the Shahpura Lasaria Road, and Sirdar Niwas—a house intended for the dwelling of the Raja Dhiraj and members of his family during an epidemic—was started. All these works were being conducted under the general supervision of Baboo S. B. Mitra, the State Engineer, but thinking that it might prove a burdensome task for one man, and that the works might be wrongly carried out as far as engineering points were concerned, it was thought advisable to borrow from the Government of India the services of an European Executive Engineer of the Irrigation Branch. Accordingly the Political Agent, Haraoti and Tonk, was addressed, and in the third week of November 1905, Mr. E. W. Bell, Executive Engineer, Burma P. W. D., was lent to the Chiefship on a monthly salary of Rs. 700, excluding pension and leave contributions and travelling allowances. Shortly after his arrival he was put in charge of the works.

In the middle of December 1905, when the Hon'ble the Agent to the Governor-General came to inspect the preliminary measures, Mr. F. St. G. Manners-Smith, who had accompanied him, found that the work done by Baboo Mitra was unsatisfactory, and had been a waste of money, so that he recommended his dismissal, and the engagement of three new subordinates was advised to be paid from the salary drawn by him. This was accordingly done.

The Bhimpura work was put under the sole charge of Mr. Bell, who was directed to have his head-quarters there, and under his control it has progressed well. As sufficient local labour could not be had, it was thought advisable to purchase fifty tram waggons, and an engine for pumping water from the nallah, which have been received, and are working. A locomotive engine has also been ordered, and is expected here in the middle of December, after the receipt of which it is hoped that the work will be completed before the next rains.

Although the Government of India have been kind enough to sanction a loan of Rs. 2,30,000 for this work, yet not more than Rs. 50,000 have been drawn. Rs. 50,000 are about to be drawn. Endeavours are being made to recover the old debts and arrears of revenue, amounting to over four lacs, which have been outstanding for several years, and if successful it is possible nothing more will be taken from Government. Moreover it is possible that the debt will be repaid to Government in three instead of eight years.

The Raja Dhiraj is anxious to get head works of the Dhikola Project completed under Mr. Bell's supervision, provided funds become available; he has finished the important work of damming the main Bhimpura Nallah. He is further desirous of having other tanks of the territory inspected by him and of having a book prepared in which will be systematically worked out in detail plans of the feasible tank projects in the ilqa. A contour survey of the Chiefship is already on record, and it will much facilitate the work contemplated.

The average out-turn of the Rabi crop is given below:—

Wheat	...	...	...	...	7 annas in a rupee.
Barley	...	...	...	...	9      , ,
Gram	...	...	...	...	2      , ,
Opium	...	...	...	...	6      , ,

1906.

Wheat	...	..	...	...	1      , ,
Barley	...	...	...	...	8      , ,
Gram	...	...	...	...	nil      , ,
Opium	...	...	...	...	2      , ,

The Kharif crop for the season 1905-06 was a complete failure. In some fields which were situated near wells the produce was 3 annas in a rupee:—

Maize	...	...	...	...	3 annas in a rupee.
Jawar	...	...	...	...	1      , ,
Til	...	...	...	..	nil
Urd	...	...	...	...	nil
Moong	...	...	...	...	nil
Bajri	...	...	...	...	nil
Cotton	...	...	...	...	3 annas in a rupee.

During the present season, owing to good rainfall, the produce of the Kharif crop has been plentiful, though it was to some extent damaged by locusts and grasshoppers, which latter are still harming the young Rabi crop:—

Maize	...	...	...	...	15 annas in a rupee.
Jawar	...	..	...	...	9      , ,
Til	...	...	...	...	4      , ,
Urd	...	...	...	...	2      , ,
Moong	...	...	...	...	2      , ,
Bajri	...	...	...	...	2      , ,
Cotton	...	...	...	...	12      , ,

WAGES, LABOUR, PRICE OF FOOD GRAINS.

The average rate of wages during the year has been 3½ annas British, and the highest rate, with rare exceptions, has not exceeded 5 annas. The increase has been chiefly due to scarcity and dearth of labour.

In 1905, owing to the failure of the monsoon, many people could not find sufficient employment in agriculture. They were all employed in earthwork upon the Bhimpura reservoir Dam.

Since August 1906 they have, however, been chiefly employed in agricultural pursuits.

For prices of food grain see Appendix No. XVIII.

The famine conditions account for the dearness of food grain. Had sufficient grain stocks not been imported from Malwa and the better-off districts of the Punjab and the United Provinces grain would have been more expensive.

FORESTS.

The big grass Birs situated at Dhani, Kanechan and Lasaria, which have been classed as forests, were a complete failure. During the year 1905-06 there was a very scanty produce of grass, and it was quite insufficient for local requirements: hence all the Bagars had to be opened for the use of the public. Old hay which was still standing in the Birs was cut by the rayats at half Bauta; it helped them a great deal. Afterwards they began to purchase from the Raj stock. Without any restriction sheep, goats and cattle were allowed to graze in all the Birs, their owners being charged Re. 1 per head of cattle for the whole season.

Seeing the scarcity of fodder it was proposed to move cattle to Malwa and Central India. Sanction was obtained for 30,000 cattle to graze in Bhopal and Narsingarh States. Upon the question being referred to the rayats, for whose welfare the matter had been chiefly arranged, they declined to send their cattle. At first they made false promises; but when upon inquiry it was found that they were unprepared to entrust their cattle to the Raj for grazing outside the Chiefship the proposal had to be dropped. It was moreover found that instead of moving their cattle in one batch through the medium of the Raj they preferred to shift them themselves, and to move them wherever they liked without furnishing any information to the Raj of their destination and the number of cattle which they were moving. Certainly this procedure of theirs has not been profitable to them, as they have often been heard repenting of their folly inasmuch as they lost a number of their best animals.

No steps towards improving grass or fodder or for stocking the forests were taken during the period from 1st April 1905 to 31st August 1906. But now since the Birs are again restored to their thriving condition by the early September rains of 1906, timely action has been taken to prevent reckless grazing of sheep and goats, which is very injurious to forest trees and the improvement of the quality of grass. Besides safeguarding certain tracts from these animals sahnas and chowkidars have been directed to check grazing entirely. It is hoped that this cold season the Chiefship will be able to stack large quantities of hay to meet the requirements of bad years.

Owing to the peculiar nature of the sub-soil and lack of proper moisture to nourish plants, most of the jungle trees, the foliage of which serves as fodder, died during the year, and an attempt is being made to replace them. It is certain that as long as the moisture of the country is not ensured by irrigation canals the success of the scheme cannot be hoped for.

The stock of hay owned by the Raj, which amounted to 90 lacs Pulas, has been used throughout. By the beginning of July 1906 it was almost all exhausted. Had it not been in hand the effects of the fodder scarcity would have been much more severe.

As the people are busy in their fields it is difficult to get a sufficient number of men to cut grass, but it is hoped that within a fortnight, when they will be free, the grass will be cut and collected for future use.

TRADE AND MANUFACTURE.

The chief impediment to the increase of trade in the Chiefship is the fact that it is situated at some distance from a Railway Station, and has customs rates which have been current from old times. Again the circulation of the Chitouri rupee, which has become the chief currency of the Chiefship, tends to check expansion of trade to a certain extent. To remove these defects the question of introducing the British rupee and of declaring it as the legal tender of the Chiefship, and of introducing a unified code for customs applicable to all classes, is engaging the serious attention of the Raja Dhiraj. It is hoped these reforms will have been introduced by the end of 1907.

It is unfortunate that though the earthwork for the Railway was completed some seven years back, yet there appears to be no prospect of its opening at present. It is hoped to construct a light tramway from Shahpura to Lambia, nineteen miles off.

The only exports are oil-seeds, cotton, opium, raw hides, bones and wool.

Imports consist of iron, salt, clothes, sugar, kerosine oil, spice, and in bad years, grain.

There is no manufacture worthy of special note in the Chiefship. The industry of preparing lacquered toys, tables and shields has been recently revived. The Ustas, who are a class of blacksmiths, are good craftsmen in fine iron manufacture. Indigo-dying, though carried out only on a small scale, is the chief industry of the place. In spite of the fact that it is known everywhere in Rajputana it is receiving no encouragement and remains neglected.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

The guest house mentioned in the last year's report has been completed. A portion of the Shahpura-Lasaria Road was metalled, but as a great portion of the same was washed away during the July rains it has to be re-made ; the condition of the remaining portion of the road is very bad, and earthwork is required from end to end. As all energy and savings are to be directed to the Bhimpura Project, the actual expenditure on which is far exceeding the amount of the loan sanctioned by the Government of India, it will take some time before this road is put into proper condition. Some 4,000 Chitouri rupees have apparently been spent upon the road, but its present condition can in no way compare with the 3rd class service roads that are made for touring purposes in British Provinces. They are there made very cheap.

A building called Sirdar Niwas, costing about Rs. 16,000 Chitouri, was begun by way of Famine Relief at Shahpura for the use of the Raja Dhiraj and the members of his family during a time of epidemic. It is half finished.

Out of three big irrigation projects sanctioned by the Government of India as Famine Protective Works, two, viz., the Dhikoli and Bhimpura Projects, were started as Test works. Since little local labour came they remained as Test works, as famine was never declared.

For financial reasons it was thought expedient to close for the time being the Dhikola work in preference to that at Bhimpura.

Formerly the estimate of the Bhimpura work amounted to four lacs of rupees, but upon the same being revised on the suggestion of the Inspector-General of Irrigation, the total cost was reduced to Rs. 2,32,319. This reduction was not only confined to money, but side by side with it the length and height of the Dam, along with the storage capacity of the reservoir as well as the area available for irrigation, were reduced. Upon consultation with Mr. Bell, Executive Engineer, Burma P. W. D., who has been deputed for the construction of this important work, it was found that neither the earthwork nor the pitching could be carried out within the estimate, as the rates given therein were never meant for a Famine year when food grain sold at such high prices. So making every sort of allowance for consolidation and other contingencies respecting the Dam, it was settled that if a further sum of Rs. 50,000 to Rs. 60,000—out of which Rs. 35,000 were to go towards the earthwork, &c.—were sanctioned, the estimate for the reservoir would be near the mark. To meet this without further encumbering the Chiefship with a loan the Raja Dhiraj consented to sacrifice his personal luxuries for the prosperity of the Chiefship and his family, and so sold a pearl necklace for Rs. 77,000.

Although the estimate of the work amounts to Rs. 2,32,319, yet in all probability the actual expenditure will reach Rs. 3,00,000 or thereabouts. The work since the arrival of Mr. Bell has been progressing satisfactorily, and no better results than those achieved could be expected.

Since the heavy July rainfall greatly damaged the existing tanks, their repair, amounting to Rs. 5,231-8-9, was carried out.

A new weir at Phulia Kalan in the place of the old one that had given way some years ago, and had thus failed to irrigate a tract of fertile land, was constructed under the supervision of Mr. Bell. Its total cost amounted to Rs. 1,000 Chitouri. The success of this work has been rapid and this year a profit of Rs. 500 will be realised. Moreover all the wells that are situated below it have filled, so that a number of fields that were barren during the last few years will once more be permanently turned into productive land.

To retain the maximum quantity of water and to command a greater portion of black cotton soil situated at a short distance below it, the Dam of the existing Bhimsagar tank at Dhikola was raised. Its cost amounted to Rs. 4,082-2-3 British.

Excepting those given above and a few petty repairs here and there no other work was done during the year.

POST OFFICE.

The Chiefship does not possess regular post offices—letters are transmitted to villages through tehsils and Kotwali, and a charge of a pice per letter is realised. They are carried by runners in bags containing Raj official papers.

There is only one Government combined Telegraph and Post Office at Shahpura.

MINT.

There is no mint at present working in the Chiefship.

GENERAL CONDITION OF STATE AND PEOPLE.

As compared with the years previous to 1899-1900, the memorable famine year, the general condition of the people is unsatisfactory. They are not so well off as they were before, and some physical deterioration is noticeable. This has been mainly due to bad years. Whatever hopes were entertained for the improvement of their condition they received a check by the scarcity in 1905-06. Now it will take them a long time to recover. After the completion of the Bhimpura Reservoir a change for the better will certainly set in.

CHAPTER V.

REVENUE AND FINANCE.

Last report was up to 27th July 1904, so figures for the missing fifteen months, from 28th July 1904 to 31st October 1905, are as follows :—

	Chitouries.
Total Receipts	...	...	...	Rs. 4,36,984	13 9
Total Disbursements	...	...	„	4,79,255	4 6

As compared to Disbursements, Receipts were less, but the amount shown under that head does not include the balance of Rs. 70,546-2-9 which stood on the 27th July 1904. For full details see Appendix XXII A.

During the period under report the total revenue from all sources was Rs. 3,38,168-6-10 * Chitouri, excluding Rs. 67,210-11-0 opening balance against Rs. 4,36,984-13-9 † during the last year.

The figures given above relate to twelve months only. It will thus be seen that the total revenue has been Rs. 4,05,379-2-0, while the expenditure for the period mentioned above has been Rs. 4,92,525-10-6, including Rs. 91,054-4-6 on account of the amounts adjusted against remissions Rs. 51,368-8-9 and loans (recoverable) Rs. 39,685-11-9.

Thus the annual expenditure comes to Rs. 4,01,471-6-0 Chitouri, leaving a balance of Rs. 3,907-12-0 at the close of the year, viz., on the 31st October 1906.

The total amount of Government loans due by the Chiefship on the 31st October 1906 stood as follows :—

Balance of 1899-1900 Famine Loan	... Rs.	60,000	0	0
First instalment of Bhimpura Loan	... „	50,000	0	0
	Total ...	1,10,000	0	0

British currency.

In spite of the repeated instructions of Major Pritchard and the desire of the Raja Dhiraj for reform in the accounts, and a closer supervision of Tehsil Collections, the clerks still kept the accounts in a haphazard way. In addition to the introduction of Khataunies and Syaha connected with the Treasury work, they kept their own Bahies of Rokad Khata and Lekha Pad on the plea that without them all would be dark, and that their books were light.

It was with very great difficulty and labour that various books according to the English system were introduced, and the staff of incompetent officials reduced.

Double-lock books, and others which were essential, were introduced. Cheques were properly numbered and care was taken to issue them rightly and not promiscuously as was the case before.

When the Treasury was examined it was found that it was in the Bazar in a shop of the Arya Samaj, and a proper guard was not placed over it. The keys of the double lock and the single lock used to remain with the Treasurer, and strictly speaking there was no Treasury officer. The Treasury has since been removed from the Bazar to the Palace, and at present it is next door to the Accounts Office. The Private Secretary of the Raja Dhiraj, Baboo Chandra Brahma Sinha, has been appointed Treasury Officer. He keeps one key of the double lock, the second key being kept by the Treasurer. The Accounts and the Treasury offices are now working satisfactorily in accordance with British Treasury rules.

Baboo Chandra Brahma Sinha has given great assistance in introducing the new scheme. Had he not followed the orders and proposals, as the local men, it would have been very difficult to change anything.

* Includes Rs. 1,27,500 on account of sale price of garnets and pearl necklace.

† This period was of 15 months from the 28th July 1904 to 31st October 1905.

To ensure proper supervision of the Revenue Collections, the book of Wasil Baqi was reformed, and proper and systematic reports were called for from the Tehsildars giving a detail of every remittance they sent to the Treasury.

To achieve still better results provision for a Girdawar Kanungo has been made in the Budget.

CHAPTER VI.

VITAL STATISTICS.

There is only one Dispensary in the Chiefship, and it is working satisfactorily, to the great benefit of the public. During the whole year it was under the charge of Lala Harkirpal Dass, the Hospital Assistant. He shows keenness in the discharge of his duties, and takes a deep interest in his patients and their treatment. The Raja Dhiraj and Rayats both like him equally.

People appreciate the value of vaccination, as is shown by the results. Vaccinator Ram Dass is doing good work.

Sanitation is not worked upon a systematic footing, but some progress has been made in this direction. Filth and refuse carts have been introduced, urinals erected and proper latrines maintained. People are slow to appreciate these measures: hence progress in the direction of sanitary reform is slow.

Registers of births and deaths are kept at every police station, and chowkidars have particular directions to furnish the information as soon as it is obtained. Heads of families also furnish the information themselves, vide Appendix XXIV.

During the year under report the number of out-door and in-door patients was 14,305 and 36 respectively. The total daily average attendance was 62·40. The number of children vaccinated during the period under report was 965,—against 910 in the previous year—out of which 939 were successful and 26 unsuccessful.

EPIDEMIC.

From 1st April 1905 to 31st March 1906, the Chiefship enjoyed complete immunity from plague, cholera and small-pox. There was no abnormal disease of any kind. Through shortness of drinking-water an appearance of cholera was greatly apprehended, but fortunately it never appeared. By the beginning of October 1905, almost all the wells were cleaned of their rubbish and mud. Some of them were deepened too, and great care was taken to safeguard them from pollution through the dipping of unclean vessels and pots.

In the month of June 1906 a report was received that some persons were suffering from cholera in the village of Doulatpura, about three miles to the south of the town. Prompt measures to check the spread of the disease were taken, and wells from which drinking-water was taken were disinfected with permanganate of potash. Upon inquiry it was found that the disease was imported from Bhilwara. At first a boy aged about twelve years was attacked. There were in all eleven cases, and five deaths. The rest recovered.

On the 9th August 1906, one indigenous cholera case occurred in Shahpura town. An old woman who had eaten too much the previous night was attacked with indigestion, which developed into cholera. By careful treatment of the patient by the Hospital Assistant and immediate adoption of precautionary measures no second case occurred. All the wells in the town were disinfected with permanganate of potash, special care was taken and sanitary measures adopted.

On the 28th August 1906 and on the 16th September last, certain imported plague cases from Indore city, which was already infected with the disease, were reported. They were not allowed to enter the town, and were kept at the segregation camp about two miles to the south of the town. Through the timely care of the Hospital Assistant and the general administration in dealing with them they all recovered.

CHAPTER VII.

EDUCATION.

In the English section the total number of boys on the roll was 87 in November 1906, against 85 in November 1905. The average daily attendance was 61.33. During the period under report six boys were sent up for the Middle Examination, of whom three passed.

In the Hindi Section there were 147 boys on the roll in November 1906, against 191 in November 1905, and the daily average attendance was 111.70 against 142.64. During the year four boys were sent up for the Hindi Middle Examination, and three were successful.

There is a Girls' school in the town. The number of girls in the school was 18 in November 1906, against 25 in November 1905, and the daily average attendance was 17 against 19.

In addition to these schools there is a Tehsili school at Kothian, where the number of pupils during the year has been 20 in November 1906 against 18 in November 1905, and the daily average attendance has been 18.25 against 16.22.

There is a Boarding-house attached to the Raj School. The number of boarders including Rajputs has been 27.

In accordance with the suggestions of Mr. Reid two Tehsili schools will be established at Dhikola and Sangaria respectively.
